The police catch my boyfriend, they run around afterwards him a long time, I was screaming like a bird. I got scared that they would harm him, they took him to the car and I kissed the windows and told him I love him. He smiled big. War and love, I think it fits together in this cruel way, the heterosexual romance is build on war. Not being able to be together, being thorn apart, only tree days in Paris going clubbing and back to the front to die. Think about those two wars starting off twentieth century, Europe making a suicide attempt. All boys out , and the woman left to build up cities completely trashed after bombs. Now Europe moved the war out of the house, they make a pirate war to make sure they still can have their love. this thoughts are perverse. we need to change the way we live.

Here's some 5 thoughts to an end

1: If I was going to jail, I would as the first thing buy a velvet tracksuit and some makeup, ready for war, I would play chess and have a great library. I would have my boyfriend to Buy me cake and a phone in his ass.

2: I hope it will be Karl Marx Allé forever, before that it was named Stalin Allee and before that Frankfurter Allee. Some wants to make it Frankfurter Allee again, but here we have an almost comic situation, Frankfurt is one of the few financial centers in the world and there is a chance that it will start grow more with Brexit. So here we go. Karl Marx against Frankfurt, whose to choose

3: Graveyards could be small gardens , so you could make you vegetables and flowers for the living on your beloved ones . It would make a lot of sense. Merging monuments with something very practical. I believe Gardening have lot of potentially to save us from our very bad position on earth.

4:If you need four kids you don't need to be pregnant four times anymore, you can get them all in one with insemination, production went up. People get twins everyday this time. Before insemination it was a special treat now it's a real thing. You can have families with 4 girls all of them twins, it's crazy . You can get an army of kids for you own scout, it wouldn't take long with this new production rate.

5: Danger is a luxury in planned life.

See you Mira
