

CROOKED MIRROR

illustration: Asta Plum

Morten Østergaard gettin his makeup done on live television, Brecht, authenticity. Bertolt Brecht and Walter Benjamin sitting in the outskirts of Denmark , Svendborg, fleeing from the Second World War playing chess. The Danish election turns left.

Girl has class walking out from the restaurant taking the big taxi, Cinema. Walking around with your shopping bags containing small pigs, 20 centimeters each. They alive, before going home eating them. There's loads of way to grow old in dreams. Cinema, postmodern times where everybody is playing a theatre, there's loads of roles to play, you all play them good.

Bedroll, Swedish boys working in Denmark for Swedish payment agreements.

We got a big fine cake, with a big A on top of it, happy Birthday Daddy I love you , anarchy and weed for my daddy! Big Kisses Mira

VII

CROOKED MIRROR - a weekly column - Det Kosmiske Hierarki

Restaurant Spiseloppen serverer nu også dagens vegetarret

Åbningstider:

Tirsdag – Lørdag: 17.00 – 23.30

Søndag og mandag: lukket.

Det varme køkken lukker kl. 21:30 og dessert køkken kl 22:00.

